Pennsylvania Miner Murdered

BEAVER MEADOWS, Pa., Feb. 1[illegible].—Neil McBride, a miner, was murdered last evening. It is supposed that the murderer is an Irishman about twenty years old, named Ned Pearl, who escaped.

Murder at a Christening Party in Boston

BOSTON, Feb. 1[illegible].—Lawrence Norton was murdered at a christening party in Highland District, Saturday night. Five men and two women have been arrested on suspicion of connection with the murder.

Railway Casualty

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Feb. 16.—A freight train on the Lehigh and Susquehanna Railroad, between one and two o'clock this morning, ran into a slide near State Dam station. The engine jumped the track, and eighteen cars were piled upon each other. No one on the train had, as far as could be ascertained, escaped injury. The body of the engineer, Daniel Shannon, was found under the engine, considerably burned. The fireman and brakeman were badly scalded and burned, and three others are reported killed. A stove in a caboose set fire to the freight, and nine cars were burned.

Startling News from Havana.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—A Key West dispatch states that it is reported by steamer from Havana that seven [illegible] of volunteers have taken the city, compelling the Captain General to take refuge on board the Spanish war steamer Ara[illegible].

Fire.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 16.—A fire at Wooster, Ohio, yesterday destroyed the large dry goods house of J. B. Bare on East Liberty street. The building took fire at noon and the churches were immediately dismissed, the citizens in great excitement flocking to the scene. Flames soon enveloped the store and threatened the adjoining buildings, from the latter of which the greater part of the contents had been removed in a damaged condition. Loss, $200,000; fully insured.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Abolition of the Iron-Clad Oath.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1[illegible].—Gen. Butler and Judge White, of Alabama, having been appointed a sub-committee on two bills heretofore introduced in the House and referred to the Committee on Judiciary to abolish the test iron clad oath in all cases where it is now required by law, have prepared a report upon the subject, which they will this week submit to the full Committee. There seems to be no doubt that a majority of the House are in favor of abolition.

Another Movement for a Repeal of the Eight-Hour Law.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The Secretary of the Treasury has written to Garfield, Chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, enclosing a letter from manufacturers of Baltimore indorsing the views and statements of supervising architect Mullett on the eight hour question, and saying that their experience is his, that it is not only impossible for a man to perform as much labor in eight hours as in ten, but that he absolutely performs less work per hour under the eight-hour system. The letter further says the demoralizing effect on labor which the Government has temporarily employed has unfitted men for a regular day's work. Would it not be better for the best interests of the country and labor to repeal all laws governing labor and leave the question to govern itself and regulate supply and demand?

Postal Changes.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Following are the postal changes for the Pacific Coast:

Postmasters Appointed—Levi Wilcox, Cornelius, Washington county, Oregon; A. T. Boice, Hillsboro, Washington county, Oregon; James A. Masterson, Walla Walla, Union county, Oregon; S. D. Maxon, Vancouver, Clarke county.

The Howard Court of Inquiry.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The President has ordered that the Court of Inquiry in the case of General Howard be composed of Generals Sherman, McDowell, Pope, Meigs and Cole, with Major A. B. Gardner for Judge Advocate. The Court will meet in Washington on the 3d of March.

The House Committee on Appropriations have completed the Legislative, Executive, Judicial Appropriation bill, and have cut down the appropriations from the estimates to three or four million dollars, and dispensed with a number of clerks.

Senator Kelly Presents the Petition of Citizens of Oregon asking for an Investigation of Mitchell.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—In the Senate to-day Kelly presented a petition of citizens of Oregon in regard to charges against his colleague Mitchell, and asking that the same be investigated by the Senate. Kelly said he had been acquainted with Mitchell for twelve years, and knew nothing that would be derogatory to his character. In presenting the charges he desired to be understood that he said nothing in favor or against them; that matter should be left with the committee. He moved that the subject be referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and it was so ordered.

The New Conservative Government in England.

LONDON, Feb. 1[illegible].—The Observer says the new Ministry will probably be Disraeli, First Lord of the Treasury; Lord Cairns, Lord High Chancellor; Duke of Buckingham, Lord President of the Council; Duke of Richmond, War Secretary; Earl of Northumberland, First Lord of the Admiralty; Ward Hunt, Mr. Hubbard, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Gathorne Hardy, Home Secretary.

Miscellaneous.

It is rumored that Gladstone will advise the Queen to elevate Chichester Fortesque to the peerage.

A few elections in Ireland are still pending. With the week ending Saturday, 306 Conservatives and 207 Liberals and Home Rulers had been returned to Parliament. The Conservatives gain 60. The House of Commons will contain 216 new members.

The Emperor of Russia will visit England next April.

LONDON, Feb. 16—7 A. M.—The Daily Telegraph reports that the Marquis of Salisbury will be appointed Secretary of State for India. The Cabinet meets to-day to consider what course to take.

The total number of Home Rulers is fifty one.

The vessel Abraham [illegible], from Cardiff for Messina, has been wrecked. Five men were drowned.

The Standard says a Consistory will be held at Rome in June, when eight more Cardinals will be appointed, including Archbishop Manning.

Spanish War News.

MADRID, Feb. 15.—The Carlists will soon be obliged to raise the siege of Bilbao.

General Rivera, with an advance of two thousand strong of General Moriones' army, is now within nine miles of Portugalet.

The national troops have defeated a band of two thousand Carlists before Tolosa, and revictualed the city.

WEST INDIES.

HAVANA, Feb. 1[illegible].—The police have made several arrests of parties charged with taking a leading part in the demonstration on Thursday evening. Among them is Senor Nevoto Sala, editor of a defunct republican journal.

NONE OF HER BUSINESS.—The potential influence which the fair creatures of the footlights are apt to exercise over susceptible youth, says the New York Herald, is occasionally not conducive to the moral well being of the latter. Professional ladies will shrug their shoulders and be apt to say that the actress was not to blame at all whom young W. G. Davis, a London lawyer's clerk, made a fool of himself to the extent of £2,000 of his employer's money during an acquaintance of twelve months with the lady. That amount he squandered on the young actress. It was none of her business where he got the money. The law had something to say, however, and he is now practising a pas seul on a treadmill with an eight years' engagement. That is none of the lady's business either.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Overland passenger: T. Milwain, Oregon.

Weather cloudy again to-day; prospects of more rain.

Major McLaughlin, who defeated Whalen in a wrestling match Saturday night, says he will start for his home in Detroit next Wednesday.

James Ryan, proprietor of a house on Spear street, was shot last night by his brother-in-law, Eugene McCarthy. They quarreled about a cigar, and McCarthy placed his pistol against Ryan's breast and fired. It is feared the wound will prove fatal. McCarthy is not yet arrested.

The Chinese commenced celebrating their New Year last night and will continue four or five days.

Two Chronicle reporters were arrested this morning for assault and battery and using vulgar language.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—The Chronicle libel case came up before the Police Court again to-day, and the testimony was concluded. It was directed chiefly to the question of B. F. Napthaly's—complaining witness—reputation for truth and veracity, several people testifying that it was bad, others that they did not know what it was.

Another hard rain this evening.

John McCullough reappears to-night at the California Theater as Spartacus in the drama of the Gladiator.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—In the Chronicle libel case this evening Mr. Lake concluded his opening argument for the prosecution, and Alexander Campbell, counsel for the De Young Brothers, commenced his argument, but had not concluded when the Court adjourned till to-morrow.

Eugene McCarthy, who shot his brother-in-law, James Ryan, last night, fatally wounding him, succeeded in eluding the police, although several officers are searching for him.

Notwithstanding the stormy condition of the weather, the California Theater to-night is packed from the orchestra to the dome. Mr. McCullough's reception was very enthusiastic.

The case of the contending chiefs of the Fire Department, Whitney and Scannell, will be tried in the Fifteenth District Court next Thursday, Judge Dwinelle refusing to grant a continuance for Whitney beyond that day.

Large numbers of Eastern visitors and other strangers are in this city, and visited the great Chinese Temple, on Clay street, this evening, to see the New Year devotional exercises of the heathen. The Johns took a practical view of the matter and charged them twenty five cents each for admission.

Interior California.

EUREKA, Feb. 16.—There has been a very sudden change in the weather to-day. This morning the weather was clear and the wind northwest; this afternoon it is cloudy, with a strong wind from the southeast and threatening rain soon.

Reports begin to come in from the mountains confirming the belief expressed yesterday that stock would suffer seriously from the recent long and severe storm. The young cattle and sheep have fared the worst, many of each having died.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16.—August Weinshank, one of the oldest citizens, fell from a tree this evening and died shortly after from internal injuries. He leaves a large family.

NEVADA, Feb. 16.—A woman from Truckee, by the name of Mrs. Heyman, committed suicide by drowning in a small pond on Grass Valley road, about half a mile from town. Mrs. Heyman, her husband and son were arrested about a week ago at Truckee and brought to this place for examination on charges of robbing freight cars and secreting stolen goods. On examination they were admitted to bail to await trial at the next term of the County Court. Mrs. Heyman started on the Colfax stage at 5 o'clock this morning for Truckee. She was the only passenger in the coach between here and Grass Valley, and got out unobserved by the driver. Mrs. Heyman was about 30 years old. The late trouble herself and family had got into is supposed to have disturbed the soundness of her mind. Her body was found by Sheriff Perrin while on his way from Grass Valley to Nevada.

The weather has again changed to stormy. It has been raining since noon.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 16.—In the County Court to-day, the competency of the last Grand Jury was argued at length, Cadwalader and Beatty arguing for Curtis, and Clarke and Jones against. The point taken by the latter gentlemen being that one of the late Grand Jurors, Mr. Gibson, had served a term in the State Prison for forgery committed in Siskiyou county, about 19 years ago, and although restored to citizenship he had not been pardoned; consequently, under a recent decision, he is not a competent grand juror. A certified copy of a copy of the original pardon was found after much search in the Governor's office, and after a patient hearing of the argument on both sides Judge Clark decided that Mr. Gibson was competent.

Weather cloudy and threatening rain.

NEVADA.

PALISADE, Feb. 16.—This morning, about 9 o'clock, a fire broke out in the new office building of the Eureka and Palisade Railroad. The fire caught from the stovepipe, but was extinguished before much damage was done. The work on the road is progressing slowly on account of excessive cold weather.

ARIZONA.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 16.—A Union's special, dated Yuma, A. T., the 14th, says it has been raining all day.

To-day's Sentinel notes the establishment of Castle Dome smelting works on the Colorado river at Castle Dome Landing, about three miles above Yuma.

The case of the man accused of being a party in the Mission Camp murder three years ago was disposed of by his being discharged. He proved that he was Jesus Barba, and not Jesus Ortago, alias Banco.

A Union special, dated Tucson the 10th, says: Advices from Guaymas to the 4th say the U. S. steamer Narragansett completed the survey of the Gulf of California to Guaymas January 1st, worked from Cape St. Lucas on the west side of the Gulf to the mouth of the Colorado river, thence to Guaymas on the east side. Commander Dewey gives the reason he did not make a thorough survey of the mouth of the Colorado was because the vessel was too large. He so reported to the Navy Department. The steamer remained at Guaymas till the 19th and then left to continue the survey of the coast down to San Blas.

The report sent abroad that Prussia had purchased an island in the Gulf of California is false.

Congress of Mexico adjourned without the passage of railroad bills.

A rumor prevails here that General Crook is moving in this direction with a large body of cavalry to put the Cochise Indians under such discipline as that applied to the other Apaches.

The Eastern mail arrived yesterday as usual, but brings no news of further Apache movements or outrages. So far as known here there has been no depredation committed since last Sunday. [illegible]

Rain has been falling steadily ever since yesterday [illegible] and still continues. [illegible]

No later advices have been received from San Carlos nor of the Apaches who left there.

Tumwater Lodge, No. [illegible], I. O. G. T., on Monday evening, the 2[illegible] inst., installed the following persons as officers for the ensuing quarter: A. B. Baker, W. [illegible]; Mrs. R. W. [illegible]; John Ostrander, W. S.; Walter Crosby, W. F. S.; Mrs. G. W. Biles, W. [illegible]; J. [illegible] Callow, W. M.; Miss Mary Baker, W. D. M.; James Biles, W. [illegible]; Isaac Terry, W. [illegible]; B. W. Johns, W. O. G.; Miss Fanny Crosby, W. R. H. S.; Mr. Eckler, W. L. H. S.; J. Eastman, P. W. C. T.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS

An Important Bill Regulating Expenditures of the Departments

FINAL PASSAGE IN THE SENATE OF THE BANKRUPT LAW—[illegible] FOR THE REMOVAL OF THE [illegible] DISABILITIES OF [illegible]

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Bogy presented the joint resolution of the Legislature of Mississippi in regard to the illegal charges made by the Union Pacific Railroad Company. In presenting the resolution Bogy said he hoped the Judiciary Committee would give the subject early attention and give the proper construction to the Acts of Congress granting aid to that road.

Allison was appointed on the District Investigating Committee in place of Morrill, excused. The Committee now stands: Boutwell, Allison and Thurman.

West presented a memorial from the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce asking for an appropriation to reopen the Mint at New Orleans. Referred.

Goldthwaite introduced a bill to relieve the political disabilities of Raphael Semmes, of Alabama. Referred.

Stewart submitted a resolution requesting the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the Senate what time would be required after the resumption of specie payment to enable the mints to manufacture enough silver coin to replace the fractional currency. Agreed to.

Cameron, from the Committee on Foreign Relations, reported without an amendment House bill requesting the President to extend in the name of the United States a cordial invitation to foreign powers to take part in the Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia.

Conkling introduced a bill authorizing the coinage of 20 cent silver pieces. It proposes to make them legal tender in amounts not exceeding five dollars in any one payment, and applies to the new coin all existing laws relating to coinage, abasement and counterfeiting. Referred.

Boutwell's bill with regard to estimates of appropriations, etc., was reported by Sherman from the Finance Committee. It requires that the annual estimates shall include full statements of all permanent appropriations, both specific and definite, remaining in force; that the annual estimates for all appropriations for public works shall be accompanied by detailed statements of the entire cost of said works, and that statements shall be furnished showing the total amount expended under each head of all appropriations during the preceding four years. It provides that estimates for contingent and miscellaneous expenses shall not include salaries of any kind; makes it unlawful for any Department of the Government to expend for the service in any one year any sum in excess of the appropriations for that year, or to involve the Government in any contract for future payment of money in excess of such appropriations; and requires the Secretary of the Treasury in June of each year to convey into the Treasury such balances of appropriations unexpended on the 31st of May previous as will be needed to meet outstanding liabilities or to fulfill contracts properly made within the current fiscal year. Placed on the calendar.

The morning hour having expired, the Senate resumed consideration of the Bankrupt bill, the pending amendment being that of Merriman, giving to the State Courts the sole power in the Federal Courts in executing the bankrupt law, which was rejected.

On motion of Edmunds, the blank in the section relating to compromises with creditors was filled so as to provide that an arrangement for settlement in order to be valid shall receive the signatures of two thirds of the number of creditors, and representing one half of the debts.

Thurman moved to fill the blank as to the time when the provision of the 9th section as amended by the committee shall take effect, by inserting the first day of December, 1873, so that the section shall apply to cases of compulsory or involuntary bankruptcy commenced since that date. Agreed to.

Sumner offered an amendment to the 21st section of the original act as follows:

But a creditor proving his debt or claim shall not be held to have waived his right to action or suit against a bankrupt when discharge has been refused or proceedings have been determined without discharge. Agreed to.

The bill having been considered in the Senate as a Committee of the Whole, was reported to the Senate and the amendments concurred in.

Johnson offered an amendment providing for the publication of notice of sales under the act in some newspaper to be designated by the Judge. Agreed to.

Stevenson declared himself opposed to any bankrupt bill, and would therefore vote for the House bill repealing the law. He believed the public sentiment was favorable to a repeal of the bankrupt law, and if the Senate could look to the House for a manifestation of that public opinion in the bill that the House passed.

Alcorn moved to reconsider the vote by which the committee's amendments were agreed to. Rejected.

The bill then passed: yeas 43, nays 11. Following is the negative vote: Conover, [illegible], Hitchcock, Logan, McCreery, Mitchell, Oglesby, Patterson, Stevenson and Wadleigh.

The bill goes back to the House for concurrence by that body.

On motion of Sherman, the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the bill reported from the Finance Committee to amend the Act to provide for the redemption of three per cent. temporary loan certificates and for the increase of National Bank notes. The bill authorizes the Controller of the Currency to withdraw National Bank currency from States having an excess of circulation, and issues it to those having less than their proportion, provided the whole amount of circulation so withdrawn and issued shall not exceed $25,000,000.

Pending consideration of the bill the Senate went into Executive session, and soon after adjourned.

HOUSE.

Stowell, from the Postal Committee, reported adversely the bill providing for advertising mail letters in newspapers in Congressional Districts where routes are located. Tabled.

Stowell reported favorably the bill permitting the name and address of the sender and the number and kind of articles enclosed to be written on wrappers of newspapers, books, etc., without extra postage.

Butler, of Massachusetts, in a personal explanation, contradicted certain reports with reference to himself telegraphed from Washington to certain New York papers, characterizing them as false in every particular.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on the Army Appropriation bill. The 4th section of the bill requires all claims for stores, etc., taken or furnished for the use of the army during the rebellion to be presented before November 1, 1871, to the Southern Claim Committee, who are to have exclusive jurisdiction of them. This section gave rise to a long discussion, and a number of amendments were offered. The most important adopted was one extending the time to Nov. [illegible] and [illegible] the appointment of [illegible] Commissioners.

Cobb, of Kansas, moved an amendment requiring the Secretary of War, when [illegible] the [illegible] Government retains the amount [illegible] for [illegible] money saved to the Treasury.

With [illegible] the amendment the Committee [illegible].

Banks offered a preamble and resolution setting forth the failure of the First National Bank of Washington, and charging that it was in open violation of the National Bank law, and instructing the Committee on Banking and Currency to examine its condition, the cause of failure, and its general management, with power to send for persons and papers. Adopted. Adjourned.

certain to hear. These ladies claim to be sensitive and refined, but they seem to think that a woman who is seeking the elevation of her sex to places of honor and equality before the law loses all her womanliness, and has no right to be charitably judged.

Why may we not differ from them in our opinions on this subject as well as on others, and still deserve kind and womanly treatment and criticism? Yet ladies whom we have never known to act unkindly or ungently in other cases give vent to the most bitter remarks about the women who will lecture and appear before the public, as though they never appear in public in more conspicuous situations, on a street corner of a windy day, or running the gauntlet of a long church aisle with a new bonnet on. Ah, we fear there is danger of their losing that heavenly charity without which they are but as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals. One of the changes which we believe would be a consequent of the participation of women in political conventions, debates and deliberative bodies is that the discipline of parliamentary rules would tend to make women more forbearing and considerate of the right of others to differ from them, and gradually enable them to listen calmly and courteously to the expression of opinions contrary to their own—a thing which is now very hard for many women to do. That men are usually superior in this respect arises, we think, from the constant restraint they are called upon to exercise in regularly organized societies, in which women are but beginning to have experience.

Many have expressed fear that if women were permitted to participate in business and political meetings they would prove so unruly that business would be interfered with. But we think that a little practice and discipline, and perhaps more than this, an assurance that their opportunities were secured to them [illegible] that the business of each State government is the same so far as its jurisdiction extends. The first object mentioned in the preamble is to form a more perfect union.

To form any approximation to a perfect union the citizen must not be ignorant of the character of his fellow citizens in other States; he must know something of their local positions and the wants to which they give rise. If his home is far from the sea he must be intelligent enough to know that the same fleet that protects the maritime States protects him and his State. He must know something of the channels of commerce and the details in ages of obstruction. He must be able to conceive, in some degree, the horrors to which any attempt at separation must inevitably give rise. There must be a rapid intercommunication of ideas, a common language not perverted into local provincialisms.

Now the citizen cannot be raised to this standard, nor can these conditions be fulfilled without education. Therefore, in order to form a more perfect union, the States should look to the education of their citizens.

To establish justice. How does the State establish justice? By its laws it defines the just for the citizen, and in this function it fails unless it defines the just in such a way as to make it quite possible for the citizen to understand it. If the State took care to have its laws read to every citizen it might reasonably presume that all men know the law; but when it publishes its laws in cipher, which none but the initiated can understand, and does not place the key within the reach of every one, the presumption that all ignorance of the law is willful ignorance is altogether unwarrantable. Hence to establish justice the State should secure the ability to read to every one—male and female, black and white.

To provide for the common defense. Prussia's contests with Austria and France might be adduced. History might be ransacked, and the discussion might be endless, before we could prove that an educated soldiery is more effective than an ignorant. But this article has nothing to do with Prussia, France or Austria.

Our Government organized its army upon the supposition that every citizen soldier can read and write. If he is drafted he is warned by a letter to appear at a certain place at a certain time. If he gets leave of absence, a discharge or a pass, it is either printed or written, or both. If he is not to be harrassed, every corporal must be able to read his paper. He is supposed to be able to read his account with the Government, and, understandingly, to sign a receipt for whatever clothing, money or other thing of value he has received. When the Government gets intelligent men it is not hard to make good soldiers; not hard to find men well qualified for commissioned and non-commissioned officers. And even an inferior officer, with intelligent men, will find many of his deficiencies supplied. A good clerk will keep his accounts straight, a good orderly sergeant will look after the arms, the supplies, the health of his men, and if he is not an arrant coward, he may make a very respectable Captain or Lieutenant.

War is a much more complicated thing than it was on the morning that Leonidas sat combing his hair and waiting for the battle of Thermopylæ.

Of the education necessary for the American soldier and officer, the greater part is a good English education. Hence, to provide for the common defense the State should secure general education.

To promote the public welfare. Obedience is not all that a Republic demands of its citizens. One of the postulates upon which such a Government rests its existence is that its citizens are intelligent enough to make wise laws and select proper men to administer them. But how shall men judge wisely upon subjects of which they know nothing? An ignorant ballot, said Horace Mann, "is the winding sheet of liberty." "I don't care what they write," said Tweed, "for my constituency can't read." Every State has a right to make sure and strong the foundations of its own existence. And as the existence and the welfare of the State depend upon the intelligence of the people, and the intelligence upon education, the existence and welfare of the State depend upon the education of the people. Passing over much that might be said to strengthen this line of argument, let us examine the second part.

That education is a function of the Church is asserted in one, inferred in the other quotation.

Education, so far as the necessities of the State are concerned, is confined entirely to the products of human culture. And certainly it is not the function of any church to teach these, for there is nothing about them that belongs distinctively to any church. Each church has not a different way of spelling the English language, but the same way. Mathematics are the joint production of the East and of the West; the Egyptian, the Hindoo and the Arab have a claim with Pascal, Newton and Des Cartes; but what the church has to do with teaching arithmetic, algebra, geometry and the calculus is a puzzle too intricate for [illegible]. The same may be said of botany, grammar, physiology, natural philosophy, chemistry, and in fact, the whole technique of human intelligence. They are the common property of the race. They are not even Christian; they belong as much to the Mohammedan and the Pagan.

But the most important part of an education, we will be told, is religion. It is not necessary for us to dispute this, but the State has no religion, and therefore can teach none. The State, however, has a very elaborate code of morals expressed in its statutes, and it is not quite certain that it could rely on the churches to teach these. For instance, Mormon teachings might cause some citizens to look lightly on the commandment in regard to bigamy. And the theory of the Government that the Supreme Court is the final judge of the rightfulness of any law might be subverted in the minds of others by church claims of divine infallibility. And even the harmless and really good people the Quakers might greatly embarrass the State if they could teach their distinctive doctrines to most of the children. The morality may be right, but it is not the morality of the State, as you can see by referring to the military laws. The State [illegible] any code of morality [illegible]. The State [illegible] the only effective teacher of morals. The visible is stronger than the [illegible] much as the punishment of the law. The rigid punishment of one bad man has more effect upon the multitude than telling them fifty times that [illegible] while they see him the flattered favorite of fortune, and loved with her honor.

The Tumwater Literary Association has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Ira Ward, President; A. B. Baker, Vice President; [illegible], Secretary; John Ostrander, Corresponding Secretary; J. W. Bonner, Treasurer; [illegible], Librarian; G. W. Bile, Sergeant at Arms; G. W. Bile, J. [illegible] Pearson and J. W. Bonner, Trustees.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Board of Trustees of East [illegible] met last evening at 7 o'clock.

Members present—Backman, Steverson and Van Cleave.

Absent—Hoy and Stephens.

Minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A communication was read from S. Hilpruner in relation to lighting the city with oil. Mr. Hilpruner [illegible] this proposition. He would erect lamps and keep them lighted and in order for $4 each per month if there were twenty five lamps erected; if fifty lamps were erected, he would keep them lighted and in good order for $[illegible] each per month. The communication was placed on file.

REPORTS.

A report was read from the Committee on Streets and Public Property, to which was referred the planking [illegible] of Division street. The Committee reported that in the present condition of the street it would be impracticable to plank it.

On motion, the report was placed on file and the Committee discharged from further consideration of the same.

From the same committee a report was read in relation to the extension of Twenty Third street. The Committee reported adversely to such extension, and recommended that the further consideration of the subject be indefinitely [illegible] numbering in membership respectively 28 and 71.

It is the general impression that the corpse of the man lately found in Rogue river was that of the missing German Spidell, supposed to have been foully dealt with about Jacksonville last fall.

The snow was about ten inches deep around Linkville last week, with the weather very cool. Such a season has not before been experienced in that country since its settlement by the whites.

The schooner Emerald, which has been in the Coos Bay and San Francisco trade, was sold recently to parties in San Francisco for $10,000. She was built in 1870 at Yaquina Bay by Ben Simpson.

The report of the Town Treasurer of Jacksonville for the current fiscal year ending February 5th shows receipts of $706.60 and expenditures of $[illegible]8.99, which together with the amount on hand at the commencement of the year brings receipts and expenditures out even at the date given.

The funeral services at the burial of David A. Miller at Salem were attended by a large concourse of people. To know Mr. Miller was to respect him, and but few men can be found who would fill the place of high esteem and confidence which he occupied in the hearts of his large circle of acquaintances.

A letter from Goose Lake Valley, dated Jan. 26th, says: "Having learned that the report is circulated in your vicinity that we have had four feet of snow here since the 1st of December, I beg leave to correct the error. At no time since that date have we had over 14 inches snow, nor has the thermometer indicated colder than four degrees above zero."

The man Greathouse, who mysteriously disappeared from Silverton, Marion county, about six weeks ago, and for whose ghastly remains the citizens of that burg have been confidently looking in the stream and wood ever since, they supposing him to have been ruthlessly murdered, now writes from California for his clothes and back pay, and gives as a reason for his abrupt departure some "youthful indiscretions," the consequence of which he wished to avoid.

An interior correspondent says: "It will be remembered by many that the County Clerks of this State received notice from the Secretary of State that the several counties had been charged only with the assessment as equalized by the County Boards. Now comes the State Treasurer and notifies the County Treasurers that they have charged them with the assessments as equalized by the State Board. A happy state of affairs will be inaugurated by these non official notifications."

At the last meeting of the Board of the Washington County Agricultural Society, R. Imbrie, G. M. Raymond and L. Patterson, Mrs. David Lenox, Mrs. N. Raymond and Mrs. Sarah Patterson were appointed a committee to revise the premium list of 1874. The committee will meet March 25th, 1874, at Hillsboro. A general attendance of parties interested is solicited by the committee, as well as communications containing suggestions. All communications will be thankfully received. All communications can be addressed L. Patterson, Hillsboro, which will be delivered to the respective departments.

The total valuation of taxable property in Jackson county as taken from the Assessor's books is $1,8[illegible],390. Quite a number of persons escaped assessment by the Assessor, whose property will swell the total amount considerably. Total number of polls at $4 each, $4,244. The total amount of taxes is $37,173.09, apportioned as follows: State tax from property, $10,061.67; State tax from polls, $1,061; total State tax, $11,122.67. County tax from property, $12,[illegible]5.76; county tax from polls, $1,061; total county tax, $13,966.76. Hospital tax from polls, $2,122; school tax, $[illegible]8.18; building fund, $3,608.79; Link River Road special tax, $914.79.

We copy the following from the Yreka Journal of the 11th inst., concerning the death of White at Linkville, that paper crediting its information to John Hendricks, who had just reached Yreka direct from Linkville: "A party were in Blair & Dick's saloon when a difficulty arose between James Gentry and a man by the name of Duval. William Hathaway separated them, then James Lindsey attacked Duval with a chair. Hathaway, fearing that Duval would be seriously injured, started out of the rear door of the saloon to call the proprietors. At this time White and John Cafferty were lying on a table in the saloon, and were not taking any any part in the disturbance. Hathaway had not gone more than 20 feet when he heard a pistol shot. When he returned he saw White lying on the floor dead. John Cafferty states that as soon as the smoke cleared away he saw Gentry with a pistol in his hand. Cafferty started towards Gentry and said, 'Give me that pistol; you have shot White.' Gentry replied, 'Yes, and I will kill you, you — —.' Then Cafferty caught hold of the pistol and used his fist freely on Gentry's nose to make him give up the weapon. Gentry has been sent to jail [illegible] murder in the first degree."

THE TERRITORIES

The Olympia Seminary Union has filed articles of incorporation.

A daily paper is talked of in connection with the Intelligencer at Seattle.

[illegible] M. Conver, a newly appointed missionary to the Indians at Lapwai, has arrived at his post.

At several points in Montana Territory the epizooty has reappeared. Some stage lines have been compelled to stop.

Several new buildings and general improvements are going forward at Seattle notwithstanding winter and dull times.

A lodge of Masons was organized at Mount Idaho last month by Sewell Max, of Lewiston, and I. R. King was elected Master.

Seattle is again in comparative darkness, something about the gas works having burst, thus for a time cutting off the supply.

They were sowing wheat in the vicinity of Lewiston, Idaho, last week. About Centerville, W. T., the farmers are busy plowing.

An Idaho man has lost [illegible] per cent. of his [illegible] the past winter. He had two cats, and a neighbor's dog chawed up the Thomas.

The Circuit Court is still in session at Seattle. Cases are being disposed of with celerity [illegible] Judge Jacobs.

The County Surveyor of King county, W. T., Mr. J. Whitworth, has just finished the resurvey of the [illegible] Maynard Donation claim by order of the Government.

There are five members only of the Utah Legislature who are not possessed of more than one wife each, and of these five three are Mormons by profession.

The Mal[illegible] Gold and Silver Mining Company [illegible] to increase their capital stock from $1,000,000 divided into 10,000 shares of $100 each, the present capital, to $500,000 divided into 2,000 shares of $100 each.

The steamer [illegible], Capt. Morrison, left Olympia on the 14th for Seattle and Victoria, and will leave the latter port on the 18th instant for Fort Wrangle with mails and freight.

On the 21st ult. Mr. [illegible], from the House Judiciary Committee, reported a bill authorizing Legislatures in the several organized Territories except Utah, at each regular session to make an assignment of Judges to hold Courts in districts, and when the Legislature fails to do so, then the Judges of such Territory shall make an assignment to continue in force till the close of the next regular session of the Legislature. He explained that the exception of Utah was because there was no Legislature, but the Governor made an assignment of Judges. The bill passed.

Our Territory of New Mexico is an anomaly. Its people are unlike those of any portion of the country. Though living on the frontier they have none of the push and enterprise of other frontier people, but are very conservative. They glory in the old fame of Spain and hold on to the Castilian dialect. The Territorial Legislature now in session is composed almost entirely of men of Spanish descent. As the laws of the United States only recognize English as the official language, the bills are drawn in English for official publication. However, they are in reality first drawn up in Spanish, and the copies are presented to the members in that language. The discussions in both Houses of the Legislature are conducted in the Spanish language. The clerks are obliged to understand both English and Spanish, and their labors are very arduous.

THE RING ACCUSATIONS AGAINST GOV BOOTH PROVED FALSE

The investigations in the California Legislature of the charges of bribery made against Gov Booth by the editor of the Spirit of the Times and copied and magnified ad libitum by the subsidized railway papers of that State and Oregon have developed nothing whatever tending even remotely to connect Booth or any confidential friend of his with any attempt to use money to secure his election to the Senate As we stated a few days since the only act of which there is a scintilla of evidence was that of a fellow by the name of Brown who was not shown to have had even a passing acquaintance with Booth The evidence in his case was the testimony of a ward politician named Carter who has been known in many dirty jobs for the railway ring which controlled California politics until the last election He says Brown offered him a bribe of $2000 to cast his vote for Booth

It is not very probable that a man who has been all along notoriously an active tool of the railway ring and who is an experienced political manager would be the person approached for such a purpose Exposure would be certain in such a case as every person would know—and especially as Brown who is another experienced politician and an intimate friend of Carter, would know

But let us look a little further at the circumstances of the case What could have induced the editor of the Spirit of the Times to make the accusation unless there was something in it? Just this The editor of the Spirit of the Times is one Boruck, who was the ring candidate for Chief Clerk of the Assembly and who was defeated by the friends of Booth He made a desperate struggle for the place and his fall was a high one He took the disappointment greatly to heart and was, of course, glad of any pretext for attacking Gov Booth His real object is revenge He has a grievance He does not pretend to have had any other information on which to base his accusation than the statement of Carter that Brown offered him the $2,000 for his vote and Carter does not claim to have any evidence that Brown's action was known to Booth

And who is Brown? A ward politician of Democratic antecedents. Not that alone. It comes out in the evidence that Brown was an active worker against Booth and for the railway ring, in the election last summer, when the present Legislature was elected Nobody suspected him of being a Booth man till after the election demonstrated the inability of the monopolists to elect the U S Senator Then Mr Brown begins to declare himself favorable to the choice of Gov Booth Is it likely that Booth would make such a person his confidential agent in a matter of this nature? Is he a natural fool? And is it not by far the most probable theory of the transaction, if there is any truth at all in what Carter says, that Brown was playing the role of a Booth man pursuant to an understanding with the ring, and in order to give color to the idea that he was in Booth's confidence, and that the offer of money to Carter, the known partisan of the ring, was an understood thing for the purpose of making false capital against Booth? This certainly is a more reasonable view than to suppose Booth to be the idiot which the charge of bribery, in the shape in which it comes, supposes him to be

But Brown says he did not offer to pay the $2000, but that he merely said, as an expression of his strong desire to see Booth elected, that he "would give $2,000 to see him elected" And another witness, John R. Eardley, who came into Brown's room just as Carter went out, testifies that Brown remarked to him that he had been urging Carter to vote for Booth, and that he "would give $2,000 to see Booth elected"

But Gov Booth's friends, determined to sift the case to the bottom, called on the stand all the men who were regarded during the contest as his warmest supporters and most intimate friends, including Speaker Estee Attorney General Love Albert Hart, Governor's Secretary, and others, who underwent a rigid cross examination at the hands of the railway ring lawyers and politicians, and not a syllable was elicited indicating that a cent of money had been used to elect Thus is this accusation proved false and malicious

A CASE OF SKILLED TALENT IN THE INDIAN SERVICE

Natchez, chief of the six hundred Piutes who are struggling for existence in the mountains of Northern California, seems to be a second edition of Whittier's

Nauhaught the Indian deacon who of old
Dwelt, poor but blameless where his narrowing cape
Stretches its shrunk arms out to all the winds
And the relentless smiting of the waves.

That is to say, he is an honest Indian who has learnt through some old fashioned influence that it is wrong to steal and criminal to lie Many good things are said of him He is well and favorably known in San Francisco The people of Humboldt county are grateful to him because, in the Indian troubles of 186- he imperilled his life to serve the whites and because when the turbulent tribes had been subdued he rendered most valuable service in recovering horses and cattle which had been stolen from the settlers So much for Natchez We have examined his credentials, and they seem to be duly authenticated.

There is another thing however which should not be left unsaid Natchez is an unprogressive Indian However much we may admire the nobility with which we credit him pro tem this must be admitted. For instance he could not be made to see that Rev Mr Bateman the Agent in charge of Pyramid Lake Reservation had any moral right to draw allowances for five hundred Piutes when there were, in reality, no more than sixty—women and children all told Natchez was imprudent enough to question the Agent on this point At first he was repulsed Afterward he returned with ten of his tribe, to pursue the inquiry Of course such impudence as this was not to be tolerated by the Agent, so he speedily sent word to General Schofield that Natchez was inclined to make trouble on the reservation, and requested that he be put where he could do the least harm Accordingly the inquisitive Piute was lodged in Alcatraz, The white people around the Reservation interested themselves to get a proper hearing for the imprisoned chief tain and at their request General Schofield called on Natchez a few days since The Indian told such a straight story that the General ordered his immediate release

In a San Francisco paper we find a report of the old Piute's grievances He says that some time ago the Agent of the Shoshones was in his neighborhood distributing blankets He (Nathez) called on him and told him his people never got any The Agent referred him to Rev Mr Bateman Rev Mr Bateman dismissed him unceremoniously and Natchez again went to the Shoshone Agent, and was again sent to Rev Mr Bateman On this occasion he adopted the shrewd device of taking with him ten other Piutes We will let the Piute chieftain speak for himself

While discussing the matter, I asked how many Piutes he drew Government allowance for on the Truckee river reservation? He answered 'Five hundred' I laughed at him and said, 'Why you know there are not more than sixty women and children, all told, which is a fact and what is true besides is that Mr Bateman returns about 6 000 Piutes as under his charge on the different reservations while there are not more than 700 of my people in existence When I spoke in this way to Mr Bateman he got very angry and closed the conversation but he afterwards sent for me and said "Natchez, I think you had better drop this grievance of your I said I should not I have often expressed dissatisfaction with Bateman's way of doing business The supplies he furnishes the Indians are nominal and really amount to nothing He did on one occasion distribute a few blankets, some six or seven but he made the recipients work out their value on his land In the summer time there are only seven Indians on the whole Truckee River Reservation all blind men the rest go hunting But he draws supplies for five hundred just the same

After all the great difficulty seems to be just here this Christianized savage had not progressed far enough to apprehend the intricate beauties of that modern invention of Christian statesmanship—"addition, division and silence" He had ample advantages and he has only himself to blame for the present perturbed condition of affairs "I once had a little trouble with Bateman," says he "he offered me a bribe of $40 to get the old chief, Winnemucca, on the reservation, and I refused it" Poor Natchez! We wish a certain ex-Agent of our acquaintance could get hold of him

A DISSATISFIED STATE

The Legislature of the State of Nevada has sent to the Legislature of California fraternal greetings, with a preamble and resolutions, which recite that, whereas, in the establishment of boundaries, natural and geographically defined lines are generally preferable, and should be adopted rather than artificial ones, in the separation and erection of communities into independent governments, and, whereas so much of the State of California as lies east of the summit of the Sierra Nevada Mountains belongs, as it were, naturally to the State of Nevada, etc, etc therefore, the State of California should cede to the State of Nevada, all such territory belonging to the former State lying east of the summit of said Sierra Nevada Mountains, as aforesaid, Which the press of California considers a cool proposition The S F Bulletin regards the subject from two points of view First, it says, you can't have it, we haven't any territory to give away So much for general principles Secondly, the cession would take away a large part of our natural water supply, and our parched ranches which, by a sturdy euphemism, we call wheat fields, we cannot spare a drop of the present scant stock 'California feels a sisterly solicitude for our sister State of Nevada,' says the Bulletin, 'but we cannot part with any territory, and especially territory where the life-giving waters are stored' And then Nevada is sweetly reminded that she has no business with a State government anyway, that she was endowed with Statehood only because, in the stress of war times, the national party needed strengthening in the Senate of the United States And it is delicately hinted that if she is dissatisfied with her present condition, she can most easily obtain relief by lapsing into her ancient Territorial state So it is hardly probable that the prayer of Nevada will get that consideration to which its geological arguments would seem to entitle it

Verily she can say I have asked for bread and ye give me a stone

The Senate of California has passed the bill granting a pension of $250 per month to Gen Sutter There was much spirited discussion over the bill in the course of which several Senators recounted the sufferings and hardships which the veteran endured in the work of settling New Helvetia On the other hand it was argued that the principle involved in the bill was a bad one and that it was now time for the State to abandon the bad precedent set ten years ago One Senator (Roach) having referred to General Sutter's liberality in keeping open house for the early settlers another Senator (Laine) retorted that all the old native Californians had kept open house as well as General Sutter and no one had ever proposed to give them anything but rather they had been too often robbed of their lands by litigation and left to die in the poorhouse Another Senator urged that General Sutter had already received $24 000 from the treasury of California He thought the old pioneer had received enough The bill has passed the Assembly and now awaits the approval of Gov Booth

The big clipper Three Brothers which left San Francisco for Havre, etc with a cargo of 3 5?0 centals of wheat valued at $1?? 000 arrived off Falmouth on the 9th inst making the trip in 10? days The average passage is reckoned at 130 days The Three Brothers it will be remembered was formerly the magnificent steamer Vanderbilt which was presented to the Government by the Commodore in war times

We have received a copy of The Home Gazette a journal devoted to farming interests and published in pamphlet form at No 4 South Fifth Street St Louis Mo It is a handsome paper of twenty five pages and contains much pleasant and instructive reading after the edification and instruction of all classes

Ordinance No 1434

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE MODE OF expenditures of public moneys and the presentation of claims

The City of Portland does ordain as follows

Section 1 No portion of any appropriation made out of any Fund in the City Treasury, the mode of expenditure whereof is not expressly provided for by Ordinance shall be deemed applicable to the payment of any claim nor shall any claim be audited or presented to the Common Council except as hereinafter provided

Section 2 All claims shall be presented to the Auditor during office hours on or before the day preceding the day fixed for the meeting of the Common Council (if presented on the day of meeting it shall be laid over to the next succeeding meeting except on extraordinary occasions) such claims shall be in the name of the party interested therein and shall have attached thereto a certificate signed by such party or his duly authorized agent to the effect that he is the person or agent of the person requested to furnish the supplies and perform the work mentioned in said bill That the same has been duly furnished or performed and that the prices charged are the lowest current market rates for labor performed and for the articles of the same quality as those furnished or that the prices charged are as agreed upon by contract and shall be endorsed (if correct) approved with the date of approval and signed by the committee or officer authorized to make such expenditure

Section 3 Upon the presentation of any claim endorsed as provided in section (2) two of this Ordinance the Auditor shall examine the same and if found to be in conformity with law endorse thereon the number of the Ordinance authorizing such expenditure (or of the authorization if by resolution as provided in section six (6) of this Ordinance) the appropriation out of which the same is payable the date of auditing and the amount due thereon together with any suggestions or explanations which he may deem proper and pertinent

Section 4 A claim presented to the Auditor for supplies or work unauthorized in express terms by any ordinance or resolution or for which no appropriation has been made applicable to the payment may be presented to the Council if endorsed by the proper officer or committee Claims in the nature of damages for extraordinary services or not properly under the supervision of any committee, or officer may also be presented if endorsed by two members of the Council to the effect that they consider such claim or any portion thereof is just and reasonable The Auditor shall make such endorsements upon any claim of the character described in this Section as shall enable the Council to determine as to whether the same is a legal or equitable claim against the City or otherwise and what action is necessary for its payment or for such portion as may be deemed just

Section 5 Unless otherwise provided by ordinance claims for work done or for material and supplies furnished shall be under the supervision of and certified by the several standing committees and officers as herein set forth

In all matters relating to the streets parks bridges street lamps and public ground by the Committee on Streets and Public Property and Superintendent of Streets

In all matters relating to the fire apparatus engine houses hydrants and cisterns by the Committee on Fire and Water and Chief Engineer

In all matters relating to the Police Department not under the supervision of the Police Commissioners including expenses of the police building, jail and board of prisoners and also all matters relating to the public health not under the supervision of the Board of Health by the Committee on Health and Police and Chief of Police

The expenses of Council rooms and adjacent office the purchase of stationery including the printing of blanks for the several departments, advertising and the several items of current expenses not otherwise provided for by the Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses and the Auditor Provided That stationery and blanks shall be under the charge of the Auditor for delivery to the several departments upon the written requisition of the officers in charge thereof

Expenses connected with litigation by the committee on Judiciary

For the care of the Dredging apparatus and expenses incident to the use thereof by the Committee on River Improvements Other expenditures not herein expressly provided for shall be under the charge of the committee to whom the same may from time to time be referred or having charge of expenditures of a similar nature

Section 6 No expense for supplies or labor or both exceeding in the aggregate the sum of one hundred dollars shall be incurred unless expressly provided for by ordinance and no liability for a less sum than one hundred dollars shall be incurred except as hereinafter provided

A committee or officer may be authorized by resolution of the Common Council to incur an expense in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars for any specified object or purpose provided an appropriation applicable to the payment thereof has previously been made in which case the Auditor shall furnish such committee or officer with a copy of such authorization for delivery to the party furnishing the supplies or doing the work therein specified to be returned by him to the Auditor with the claim therefor

Section 7 In case of any accident to any portion of the fire apparatus hydrants or cisterns rendering the same unfit for service the Committee on Fire and Water and Chief Engineer shall be authorized to have such repairs made at once anything in this ordinance to the contrary notwithstanding and they shall report to the Common Council at its next meeting the necessity for such action

Section 8 In any other case of emergency when it is apparent that the interests of the city will materially suffer unless action be had prior to a meeting of the Common Council the proper committee shall be authorized to proceed in the matter without delay incurring as little expense as possible until such meeting when they shall report the facts and apply for a proper authorization

WATER TANK—Yesterday several men were engaged in preparing an old boiler near Flanders wharf which will be employed as a water tank for the ship Etta Stewart This old boiler—of Scotch manufacture—was used for several years at the St Helens saw mill but at length gave place to a new and larger one After being thrown aside it was purchased at auction by a gentleman and brought to this city All the tubes were removed and several rents [illegible] It will hold 2400 gallons of water when ready it will be placed in a [illegible] in the hold of the vessel and filled with fresh water It will make a capital receptacle for holding water and keeping it pure

LITTLE THIEF—Yesterday afternoon a little girl approached the doorway of Freeman & Hupprich shoe store and after moving about uneasily for a few moments took a pair of shoes from the number hanging in front of the store and hiding them under her cloak quietly moved away The proprietors observed the actions of the girl and one of them started in pursuit of the young lady and in a moment had his hands upon her Returning to the store the girl was questioned and showing a disposition never to do so again and evidently regretting the act she was allowed to depart with a pair of shoes which were paid for by a gentleman present

WARNING TO THE BOYS—Complaint is made that a number of boys frequently amuse themselves with shooting at a mark in some of the thinly settled portions of the city thereby greatly endangering the lives of those residing in the vicinity Only a few days since a lady residing near Eighth and Harrison streets came near being the recipient of a load of shot from one of those boy targets The police will no doubt attend to these youngsters if they repeat their practice

OREGON MUSEUM—The Woman Suffrage Association on Saturday afternoon unanimously adopted the following offered by Mrs Dr Sawtelle

Resolved That since we have enjoyed visiting the Oregon State Museum with its fine productions of nature and art we hereby extend our hearty thanks to Mr Poop and Professor Wood for their invitation Adopted

THE RING ACCUSATIONS AGAINST GOV BOOTH PROVED FALSE

The investigations in the California Legislature of the charges of bribery made against Gov. Booth by the editor of the Spirit of the Times, and copied and magnified ad libitum by the subsidized railway papers of that State and Oregon, have developed nothing whatever tending even remotely to connect Booth or any confidential friend of his with any attempt to use money to secure his election to the Senate. As we stated a few days since, the only act of which there is a scintilla of evidence, was that of a fellow by the name of Brown, who was not shown to have had even a passing acquaintance with Booth. The evidence in his case was the testimony of a ward politician named Carter, who has been known in many dirty jobs for the railway ring which controlled California politics until the last election. He says Brown offered him a bribe of $2,000 to cast his vote for Booth.

It is not very probable that a man who has been all along notoriously an active tool of the railway ring, and who is an experienced political manager would be the person approached for such a purpose. Exposure would be certain in such a case as every person would know—and especially as Brown, who is another experienced politician and an intimate friend of Carter, would know.

But let us look a little further at the circumstances of the case. What could have induced the editor of the Spirit of the Times to make the accusation unless there was something in it? Just this. The editor of the Spirit of the Times is one Boruck, who was the ring candidate for Chief Clerk of the Assembly and who was defeated by the friends of Booth. He made a desperate struggle for the place and his fall was a high one. He took the disappointment greatly to heart and was, of course, glad of any pretext for attacking Gov. Booth. His real object is revenge. He has a grievance. He does not pretend to have had any other information on which to base his accusation than the statement of Carter that Brown offered him the $2,000 for his vote, and Carter does not claim to have any evidence that Brown's action was known to Booth.

And who is Brown? A ward politician of Democratic antecedents. Not that alone. It comes out in the evidence that Brown was an active worker against Booth and for the railway ring, in the election last summer, when the present Legislature was elected. Nobody suspected him of being a Booth man till after the election demonstrated the inability of the monopolists to elect the U. S. Senator. Then Mr. Brown begins to declare himself favorable to the choice of Gov. Booth. Is it likely that Booth would make such a person his confidential agent in a matter of this nature? Is he a natural fool? And is it not by far the most probable theory of the transaction, if there is any truth at all in what Carter says, that Brown was playing the role of a Booth man pursuant to an understanding with the ring, and in order to give color to the idea that he was in Booth's confidence, and that the offer of money to Carter, the known partisan of the ring, was an understood thing for the purpose of making false capital against Booth? This certainly is a more reasonable view than to suppose Booth to be the idiot which the charge of bribery, in the shape in which it comes, supposes him to be.

But Brown says he did not offer to pay the $2,000, but that he merely said, as an expression of his strong desire to see Booth elected, that he "would give $2,000 to see him elected." And another witness, John R. Eardley, who came into Brown's room just as Carter went out, testifies that Brown remarked to him that he had been urging Carter to vote for Booth and that he "would give $2,000 to see Booth elected."

But Gov. Booth's friends, determined to sift the case to the bottom, called on the stand all the men who were regarded during the contest as his warmest supporters and most intimate friends, including Speaker Estee, Attorney General Low, Albert Hart, Governor's Secretary, and others, who underwent a rigid cross examination at the hands of the railway ring lawyers and politicians and not a syllable was elicited indicating that a cent of money had been used to elect. Thus is this accusation proved false and malicious.

A CASE OF SKILLED TALENT IN THE INDIAN SERVICE

Natchez, chief of the six hundred Piutes who are struggling for existence in the mountains of Northern California seems to be a second edition of Whittier's

> "Nauhaught the Indian deacon who of old
> Dwelt poor but blameless where his narrowing cape
> Stretches its shrunk arms out to all the winds
> And the relentless smiting of the waves."

That is to say, he is an honest Indian who has learnt through some old fashioned influence that it is wrong to steal and criminal to lie. Many good things are said of him. He is well and favorably known in San Francisco. The people of Humboldt county are grateful to him because, in the Indian troubles of 1866, he imperilled his life to serve the whites, and because when the turbulent tribes had been subdued he rendered most valuable service in recovering horses and cattle which had been stolen from the settlers. So much for Natchez. We have examined his credentials, and they seem to be duly authenticated.

There is another thing however which should not be left unsaid. Natchez is an unprogressive Indian. However much we may admire the nobility with which we credit him per se, this must be admitted. For instance, he could not be made to see that Rev. Mr. Bateman the Agent in charge of Pyramid Lake Reservation had any moral right to draw allowances for five hundred Piutes when there were, in reality, no more than sixty—women and children all told. Natchez was imprudent enough to question the Agent on this point. At first he was repulsed. Afterward he returned with ten of his tribe, to pursue the inquiry. Of course, such impudence as this was not to be tolerated by the Agent, so he speedily sent word to General Schofield that Natchez was inclined to make trouble on the reservation and requested that he be put where he could do the least harm. Accordingly the inquisitive Piute was lodged in Alcatraz. The white people around the Reservation interested themselves to get a proper hearing for the imprisoned chief then and at their request General Schofield called on Natchez a few days since. The Indian told such a straight story that the General ordered his immediate release.

In a San Francisco paper we find a report of the old Piute's grievances. He says that some time ago the Agent of the Shoshones was in his neighborhood distributing blankets. He (Natchez) called on him and told him his people never got any. The Agent referred him to Rev. Mr. Bateman. Rev. Mr. Bateman dismissed him unceremoniously and Natchez again went to the Shoshone Agent, and was again sent to Rev. Mr. Bateman. On this occasion he adopted the shrewd device of taking with him ten other Piutes. We will let the Piute chieftain speak for himself:

"While discussing the matter, I asked how many Piutes he drew Government allowance for on the Truckee river reservation. He answered 'Five hundred.' I laughed at him and said 'Why you know there are not more than sixty, women and children all told,' which is a fact, and what is true besides is that Mr. Bateman returns about 6,000 Piutes as under his charge on the different reservations, while there are not more than 700 of my people in existence. When I spoke in this way to Mr. Bateman he got very angry and closed the conversation, but he afterwards sent for me and said, 'Natchez I think you had better drop this grievance of yours.' I said I should not. I have often expressed dissatisfaction with Bateman's way of doing business. The supplies he furnishes the Indians are nominal and really amount to nothing. He did on one occasion distribute a few blankets some six or seven, but he made the recipients work out their value on his land. In the summer time there are only seven Indians on the whole Truckee River Reservation, all blind men, the rest go hunting. But he draws supplies for five hundred just the same."

After all, the great difficulty seems to be just here. This Christianized savage had not progressed far enough to apprehend the intricate beauties of that modern invention of Christian statesmanship—"addition, division and silence." He had ample advantages, and he has only himself to blame for the present perturbed condition of affairs. "I once had a little trouble with Bateman," says he, "he offered me a bribe of $40 to get the old chief, Winnemucca, on the reservation, and I refused it." Poor Natchez! We wish a certain ex Agent of our acquaintance could get hold of him.

A DISSATISFIED STATE

The Legislature of the State of Nevada has sent to the Legislature of California fraternal greetings, with a preamble and resolutions, which recite that, whereas, in the establishment of boundaries, natural and geographically defined lines are generally preferable, and should be adopted, rather than artificial ones, in the separation and erection of communities into independent governments, and, whereas so much of the State of California as lies east of the summit of the Sierra Nevada Mountains belongs, as it were, naturally to the State of Nevada, etc, etc, therefore, the State of California should cede to the State of Nevada, all such territory belonging to the former State lying east of the summit of said Sierra Nevada Mountains, as aforesaid. Which the press of California considers a cool proposition. The S. F. Bulletin regards the subject from two points of view. First, it says, you can't have it, we haven't any territory to give away. So much for general principles. Secondly the cession would take away a large part of our natural water supply, and our parched ranches which, by a sturdy euphemism, we call wheat fields, we cannot spare a drop of the present scant stock. "California feels a sisterly solicitude for our sister State of Nevada," says the Bulletin, "but we cannot part with any territory, and especially territory where the life giving waters are stored." And then Nevada is sweetly reminded that she has no business with a State government anyway, that she was endowed with Statehood only because, in the stress of war times, the national party needed strengthening in the Senate of the United States. And it is delicately hinted that if she is dissatisfied with her present condition, she can most easily obtain relief by lapsing into her ancient Territorial state. So it is hardly probable that the prayer of Nevada will get that consideration to which its geological arguments would seem to entitle it.

Verily she can say "I have asked for bread and ye give me a stone."

The Senate of California has passed the bill granting a pension of $250 per month to Gen. Sutter. There was much spirited discussion over the bill in the course of which several Senators recounted the sufferings and hardships which the veteran endured in the work of settling New Helvetia. On the other hand it was argued that the principle involved in the bill was a bad one and that it was now time for the State to abandon the bad precedent set ten years ago. One Senator (Roach) having referred to General Sutter's liberality in keeping open house for the early settlers another Senator (Lane) retorted that all the old native Californians had kept open house as well as General Sutter and no one had ever proposed to give them anything but rather they had been too often robbed of their lands by litigation and left to die in the poor house. Yet another Senator urged that General Sutter had already received $24,000 from the treasury of California. He thought the old pioneer had received enough. The bill has passed the Assembly and now awaits the approval of Gov. Booth.

The big clipper The Butler, which left San Francisco for Havre Oct. 28th with a cargo of [illegible] centals of wheat valued at $1[illegible] arrived off Falmouth on the [illegible] making the trip in 108 days. The average passage is reckoned at 110 days. The [illegible], it will be remembered, was formerly the magnificent steamer [illegible] which was presented to the Government by the Commodore in war times.

We have received a copy of The Home Gazette, a journal devoted to farming interests and published in pamphlet form at No. 4 South Fifth street St. Louis Mo. It is a handsome paper of twenty-five pages and contains much pleasant and instructive reading matter for the edification and instruction of all ladies.

Ordinance No. 1434.

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE MODE OF expenditures of public moneys and the presentation of claims

The City of Portland does ordain as follows

Section 1 No portion of any appropriation made out of any Fund in the City Treasury, the mode of expenditure whereof is not expressly provided for by Ordinance shall be deemed applicable to the payment of any claim nor shall any claim be audited or presented to the Common Council except as hereinafter provided

Section 2 All claims shall be presented to the Auditor during office hours on or before the day preceding the day fixed for the meeting of the Common Council (if presented on the day of meeting it shall be laid over to the next succeeding meeting except on extraordinary occasions) such claims shall be in the name of the party interested therein and shall have attached thereto a certificate signed by such party or his duly authorized agent to the effect that he is the person or agent of the person requested to furnish the supplies and perform the work mentioned in said bill. That the same has been duly furnished or performed and that the prices charged are the lowest current market rates for labor performed and for the articles of the same quality as those furnished or that the prices charged as agreed upon by contract, and shall be endorsed (if correct) approved with the date of approval and signed by the committee or officer authorized to make such expenditure

Section 3 Upon the presentation of any claim endorsed as provided in section (2) two of this Ordinance the Auditor shall examine the same, and if found to be in conformity with law endorse thereon the number of the Ordinance authorizing such expenditure or of the authorization if by resolution as provided in Section six (6) of this Ordinance the appropriation out of which the same is payable the date of auditing and the amount due thereon together with any suggestions or explanations which he may deem proper and pertinent

Section 4 A claim presented to the Auditor for supplies or work unauthorized in express terms by any ordinance or resolution or for which no appropriation has been made applicable to the payment thereof, may be presented to the Council if endorsed by the proper officer or committee. Claims in the nature of damages for extraordinary services or not properly under the supervision of any committee or officer may also be presented if endorsed by two members of the Council to the effect that they consider such claim or any portion thereof is just and reasonable. The Auditor shall make such endorsements upon any claim of the character described in this Section as shall enable the Council to determine as to whether the same is a legal or equitable claim against the City or otherwise and what action is necessary for its payment or for such portion as may be deemed just

Section 5 Unless otherwise provided by ordinance claims for work done or for material and supplies furnished shall be under the supervision of and certified by the several standing committees and officers as herein set forth

In all matters relating to the streets parks bridges street lamps and public grounds, by the Committee on Streets and Public Property and Superintendent of Streets

In all matters relating to the fire apparatus engine houses hydrants and cisterns by the Committee on Fire and Water and Chief Engineer

In all matters relating to the Police Department not under the supervision of the Police Commissioners including expenses of the police building jail and board of prisoners and also all matters relating to the public health not under the supervision of the Board of Health by the Committee on Health and Police and Chief of Police

The expenses of Council rooms and adjacent offices the purchase of stationery including the printing of blanks for the several departments advertising and the several items of current expenses not otherwise provided for by the Committee on Accounts and Current Expenses and the Auditor Provided That stationery and blanks shall be under the charge of the Auditor for delivery to the several departments upon the written requisition of the officers in charge thereof

For the care of the Dredging apparatus and expenses incident to the use thereof by the Committee on River Improvements. Other expenditures not herein expressly provided for shall be under the charge of the committee to whom they may from time to time be referred or having charge of expenditures of a similar nature

Section 6 No expense for supplies or labor or both exceeding in the aggregate the sum of one hundred dollars shall be incurred unless expressly provided for by ordinance and no liability for a less sum than one hundred dollars shall be incurred except as hereinafter provided

A committee or officer may be authorized by resolution of the Common Council to incur an expense in any sum not exceeding one hundred dollars for any specified object or purpose provided an appropriation applicable to the payment thereof has previously been made in which case the Auditor shall furnish such committee or officer with a copy of such authorization for delivery to the party furnishing the supplies or doing the work therein specified to be returned by him to the Auditor with the claim therefor

Section 7 In case of any accident to any portion of the fire apparatus hydrants or cisterns rendering the same unfit for service the Committee on Fire and Water and Chief Engineer shall be authorized to have such repairs made at once anything in this ordinance to the contrary notwithstanding and they shall report to the Common Council at its next meeting the necessity for such action

Section 8 In any other case of emergency when it is apparent that the interests of the city will materially suffer unless action be had prior to a meeting of the Common Council the proper committee shall be authorized to proceed in the matter with the least delay incurring as little expense as possible until such meeting when they shall report the facts and apply for proper authorization

TUESDAY MORNING FEBRUARY 17 1874.

CITY.

WATER T[illegible]—Yesterday several men were engaged in repairing an old boiler near Flanders wharf which will be employed as a water tank on the ship Etta Stewart. This old boiler—of Scotch manufacture—was used for some years at St Helens sawmill but at length gave place to a new and larger one. After being thrown aside it was purchased at auction by a gentleman and brought to this city. All the tubes were removed and several rents mended. It will hold 2400 gallons of water. When ready it will be placed in a vertical position in the hold of the vessel and filled with fresh water. It will make a capital receptacle for holding water and keeping it pure and cool.

THEFT.—Yesterday afternoon a little girl approached the doorway of Friedman & Hupprich's shoe store and after moving about uneasily for a few moments took a pair of shoes from the number hanging in front of the store and hiding them under her cloak quietly moved away. The proprietors observed the actions of the girl and one of them started in pursuit of the young lady and in a moment had his hands upon her. Returning to the store the girl was questioned and showing a disposition never to do so again and evidently regretting the act she was allowed to depart with a pair of shoes which were paid for by a gentleman present.

WARNING TO THE BOYS.—Complaint is made that a number of boys frequently amuse themselves with shooting at a mark in some of the thinly settled portions of the city thereby greatly endangering the lives of those residing in the vicinity. Only a few days since a lady residing near Eighth and Harrison streets, came near being the recipient of a load of shot from one of those boy targets. The police will no doubt attend to these youngsters if they repeat their practice.

OREGON MUSEUM.—The Woman Suffrage Association on Saturday afternoon unanimously adopted the following offered by Mrs. Dr Sawtelle:

Resolved That since we have enjoyed visiting the Oregon State Museum with its fine productions of nature and art we hereby extend our hearty thanks to Mr. Popp and Professor Woods for their invitation. Adopted.

LARGE RAFT.—The Mary Bell is on the way from Cathlamet to this place having in tow a large raft of spruce logs. There are about 600 000 feet of lumber in the raft and is intended for Smith's mill. The steamer has been on the way several days and will not probably reach here before to-day, as but slow headway is made against current and wind.

STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The members of this society are requested to meet at the agency of the Patrons of Husbandry in this city on Thursday, the 26th day of February, at 10 o'clock A M for the purpose of arranging the premiums for the forthcoming exhibition.

NEARLY FINISHED.—The large fire box, being built at the Iron Works for the new tugboat belonging to Fred Congdon, is nearly finished. When it is completed the boiler, engines and machinery of the Mary Bell will be transferred at once to the tug Cordelia.

THE MASQUERADE

At no time has [illegible] hall was never so densely packed with people as upon last evening when the Masquerade Carnival under the auspices of the Turn Verein took place. From an early hour the vast hall began to fill with human beings, those in masquerade taking their places in the center of the room while the spectators occupied the benches which were arranged to afford an opportunity either to look towards the entrance or from it in the direction of the stage. While we expected to see a greater variety of new costume the make up of many showed patience and care in fulfilling every detail. The masquers numbered about two hundred. The fact that many wore costumes which did not indicate anything in particular and as there were quite a number of sailors firemen clowns and other characters including the inevitable Plantation [illegible], which have been seen so frequently we do not think our readers will care to read a lengthy list of names. Among those who dressed their character well and which were new in a great measure we note a few:

Gus Hegele [illegible] well dressed and strange to many present. With Sullivan C P Fiwert and Clark Smith boy Clowns Geo Wendell doubled as a Monk and Drum Major City Rifles. M Wagner Scissors Grinder. J Jacobi English Gent carried out very well. Alex Campbell always good made up as a Cigadear Brindle—the dress was of the City Rifles pattern but the fact that he carried a tin sword and wore other accoutrements of the same material gave him quite a distingue air. G Neumver as a Tailor was of course quite at home. Louis Pfunder Cardinal was a good make up though not rich. A Alsky dressed Louis XV with excellent taste and to make the character more complete dispensed with a mask and simply relied on a moustache as a disguise. Henry Lendines costume though plain was a good one—the "Almighty Dollar" was the distinguishing feature. Charles Christie made up as Harlequin better than we have seen it done at any previous affair of the kind. Morris Levy acted and dressed the Irishman to perfection. A E Miller and Cris Marks could not elected better costumes than those of Gymnast and they were assisted by G Gasten dieck and many others. Eddie Woodard Marquis de Lorne well dressed. Mrs Rummelin represented the Deutsche Zeitung in good style. Mrs Alex Campbell was gorgeously attired in robes feathers and other curiosities one is likely to find in Alaska and in assuming the character of the Alaska Maiden she was properly named. Mrs C A Alsky as the Marquise de Pompadour was exceedingly well dressed and attracted much attention. Miss Wagner Market Girl. Miss Zimmerman Wacht am Rhein undoubtedly German. Miss Jennie Shook the Arctic Queen attracted considerable attention as the dress was of elegant white fur and with the lady's flowing tresses trailing over it certainly gave it a decidedly brilliant appearance. Miss Mary Hochelsen though as the reader will readily perceive a pretty German girl acted the character of an Irish Girl so well that she received very modestly too, the prize for the best comic lady character. We have selected the major portion of the best dressed and assumed characters and must omit a long list of many who wore dresses and assumed characters which were not new and therefore not worthy of special mention. Of course the whole made a general variety but as previously stated so many were simply a disguise representing no particular character we forego the usual long list of names. During the evening Mr Henry Dilg exposed Bosco's trick the Marvel of Mecca. On a platform in the center of the room was placed an iron pipe—the pedestal on which the assistant was to rest. Introducing Chris Marks who was plainly attired in a calico dress, he proceeded to manipulate—fixing Mr Marks in various positions which were very funny. At the conclusion of the performance Mr Miller approached took down Mr Marks from his raised position and divested him of the calico garment exposing to view a complication of straps with which he had been fixed to enable him to perform the trick with perfect ease. About half past eleven the signal was given to remove masks following which the committee appointed Messrs Gen J W Sprague Col Henry W James, Oscar Kilbourn Isaac Blum A. Bushwiler Otto Treuer and Geo Gilbert proceeded to distribute the prizes. Mr Blum acting as spokesman, a part he performed satisfactorily.

The awards were as follows: For the best dressed Lady's character—lady's writing desk, to Mrs C A Alsky, for the best dressed Gent's character—gold pen and silver holder to Mr C A Alsky, for the most Comic Gent's character—a cigar case to Morris Levy for the most Comic Lady's character—an album, to Miss Mary Hochelsen.

The music was of the first order and the members of the band wore hats of tri-colors as also the Managers.

The hall was beautifully decorated. In addition to the many attractions in that line we observed the four letters in gas jets "P S T V"—Portland Social Turn Verein.

During the evening a number of round dances were participated in and after the unmasking that portion of the programme was indulged in by many who had previously acted the part of auditors. At midnight many repaired to the supper room where the Schmeer Bros had prepared a substantial supper. The affair continued until the wee sma' hours and then the Turn Verein masquerade was at an end. The whole affair may be put down as a success in every particular.

ADDRESS

READ BY MR [illegible] BEFORE THE OREGON STATE WOMAN SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION AT THE ANNUAL MEETING HELD AT PORTLAND FEB 14 1874

I am mindful that [illegible] only glance at the arti[illegible] there would seem to be no more ungracious or thankless task than that of attempting to convince people of something they are indifferent to or do not wish to believe.

No one can [illegible] such a hopeful spirit such an earnest untiring purpose with an energy and determined will as the persons who try to correct the mistakes of humanity. Persons who undertake to do this must expect to set themselves up as superior to their fellows in judgment in [illegible] particular and they must expect to pay the penalty of their audacity by becoming a target for all sort of unfriendly criticism and unjust representation.

This has been the fate of reformers ever since Moses appeared before Pharaoh to plead for the liberation of Israel. And the fate of reformers must follow all those who espouse an unpopular cause.

That the cause of Woman Suffrage is unpopular in the most fashionable circles of society we will not pretend to deny. But should this be for any thoughtful woman a sufficient reason for opposing it? If those circles invariably contained the best intellects of the community it might be urged as a more plausible reason but the women who devote their lives to the pursuit of the ever flying phantoms of fashion and bow down to the false goddess that decked with gaudy plumes and rich silks and laces shines in a milliner's window are we know unfit to judge for the intelligent well educated wives and mothers of our land who form an aristocracy as far above the gay glittering group of society as the flight of the eagle is above that of the butterfly. We venture to assert that at least two thirds of the women of this country would assent to the opinions advanced by the best advocates of woman suffrage, were it not for the fear of what would be thought of them by their next door neighbors. To such persons we would like simply to recount a few names.

In looking over the history of the Woman movement for the last twenty years we find connected with it such women as Mrs Lydia Maria Child Margaret Fuller Frances D Gage Catharine M Sedgewick Jane G Swisshelm, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Alice and Phebe Cary Grace Greenwood Julia Ward Howe Augusta Larned and Lucilia Burleigh all of them women who have gained fame for themselves by their superior literary abilities aside from their connection with this reform. Many other gifted women whose names are well known both in Europe and America have given the best efforts of their lives wholly to this cause. We are glad to know that so many among this aristocracy of mind agree with us in believing that [illegible] born and [illegible] a right to [illegible] in the [illegible] and to [illegible] in favor of Liberty and Justice [illegible] good.

That this right is denied to more than half the great American nation the boasted exponent of freedom and liberty for the world is certainly wonderful when we look at the fact without asking its causes. These causes are in a measure hereditary more the result of habit and education than of the selfishness of men or the ignorance of women. The most bitter and persistent opposition that we have to contend with arises from erroneous views and imaginary evil effects that have their only existence in the minds of the opposers. They imagine that when women vote they wish to dress like men and take the places of men and have men take their places in the kitchen and at home.

And they dress up these figures of their imagination in caricature and think they are bringing wonderful arguments to bear on the question of woman's rights. They imagine that women who advocate woman suffrage wish to rule over men and take away every right which they possess, hold all the offices carry all the money levy all the taxes tell the husband just what he shall buy and watch him lest he get cheated pay all the bills and say how everything shall be done in the house and out of the house. Perhaps their minds go through a process like that of the lady in our county convention at Salem after her husband had been promulgating the queer idea that all unmarried women ought to vote but that wives need not, because they have husbands who can vote for them she arose and said "I think the men have been doing these things for us long enough and if it is right for any one to stay at home, it is their turn to do it now and let us have a chance."

We do not advocate any right of women to overthrow her domestic relations and leave her home duties to her husband and sons for for the purpose of engaging in political discussion and intrigue. We believe she can do all her political duty without leaving undone one whit of the home work that comes to her in the usual course of affairs. We believe she can exert her individual power for good by voting for truth and temperance and honesty with but little outlay of time in public work. Need it take her longer to discuss the political situation or look into the merits of a candidate than it now does to gossip over a coming wedding or discuss the latest style for back hair? If she has time to make thirty fashionable calls in one June day, it seems to me with such an aptitude for turning off business she will not require very much time to deposit a ballot.

We are well aware that simply depositing a ballot is not all of politics but there are very many men who never do more in Government affairs and we believe that women could do thus much as intelligently as a large majority of men now do it. Many fear that the privilege of participating in the affairs of Government will come to women before they are prepared for it. We are all aware that their education in such things has in the past been sadly neglected for want of sufficient stimulus to induce them to study these subjects but we sincerely believe that a large majority of women will recognize their duty to inform themselves of the principles of government and the duties of citizens and seeing the great need of a purifying element in the administration of affairs be ready and competent to add it when called to the position. Who shall say that a broader and more philosophical knowledge of the underlying principles that govern nations will not fit and assist woman the better to govern her children at home. On the other hand may not the wisdom and experience gained in her administration of home affairs furnish many valuable suggestions when she shall be permitted to add her service to the general reserve.

We are very sure that the day is not far distant when the right claimed by woman to the highest freedom [illegible] possibility will not only be [illegible] upon her. We believe this [illegible] an unwavering faith in the sovereign power and eventual triumph of [illegible]. We have [illegible] of the principles [illegible] I could not have believed that I should ever address [illegible] audience on this subject.

[illegible] cities [illegible] with truth that I was [illegible] have been [illegible] Anthony as though it might be difficult to be capable of being converted but I am very far from [illegible]

certain to hear. These ladies claim to be sensitive and refined but they seem to think that a woman who is seeking the elevation of her sex to places of honor and equality before the law has lost all her womanliness and has no right to be charitably judged.

Why may we not differ from them in our opinion on this subject as well as on others and still deserve kind and womanly treatment and criticism. Yet ladies who [illegible] have never known to act unkindly or ungently in other cases give vent to the most bitter remarks about the women who will lecture and appear before the public as though they never appeared in public in [illegible] situations on a street corner of a windy day or running the gauntlet of a long church aisle with a new bonnet on. Ah we fear there is danger of their losing that heavenly charity without which they are but as sounding brass and tinkling cymbals. One of the changes which we believe would be a consequence of the participation of women in political conventions, debates and deliberative bodies is that the discipline of parliamentary rule would tend to make women more forbearing and considerate of the rights of others to differ from them, and gradually enable them to listen calmly and courteously to the expression of opinions contrary to their own—a thing which is now very hard for many women to do. This then is usually superior in this respect arises we think from the constant restraint they are called upon to exercise in regularly organized societies in which women are but beginning to have experience.

Men have expressed fear that if women were permitted to participate in business and political meetings they would prove so unruly that business would be interfered with. But we think that a little practice and discipline, and perhaps more than this an assurance that their opportunities were secured to them that they were sure to have justice in short that they were on a perfectly equal footing with men would tend to do away with a kind of desperate feeling which they sometimes indulge that since their opportunities are thus restricted they will make the most of them.

If we consider that woman's admission to the ballot and consequently to the public councils of the country would be for the public good we may be pretty sure that the good sense that has made woman behave herself in the trying relations of the past will not desert her when placed at her husband's side in the councils of the nation.

Her acknowledged power when called into action is rarely ever arrayed on any side but that of truth and right and would then be brought to bear directly upon the great questions of the day and we cannot see how it could fail to exert a mighty restraining and purifying influence.

She is always invited to participate in religious and benevolent and temperance societies and all know that her sympathies are ever in accord with the objects of these orders.

The highest earthly duty of the citizen is that which he owes to the State and it should be the pride of every man that he has a right to a voice in directing its affairs. And that this right is not lightly prized the circumstances attending the oft recurring elections abundantly testify.

Is it strange that we should be animated with a desire to take part in this noble work of framing just and beneficent laws and restraining evil in our midst. We often see what we consider wrong principles prevail and we always think on such occasions that had woman an equal share in the ballot right would win and wrong would be confounded. She is bound by every sacred tie to support only that which she believes will be for the best good of those she loves and it would be a violation of her every natural instinct should she join in supporting any cause that could possibly tend to impair the sacred bond. I ask no claim for myself to the epithet "strong minded" but with diffidence hold that while man is by nature endowed with greater physical strength his mental capacity is not so far superior to woman's as to entitle him to decide for her any question of conscience or opinion. If woman's counsel has proved valuable in the domestic relations would not the public good be promoted by the introduction of her wisdom, her delicate intuitions and keen perceptions in the councils of the nation. If any think that woman is incapable of comprehending the intricacies of diplomacy—that her mind has not the grasp necessary for the higher affairs of State—let the history of the world answer. And while we might fill a page with the names of women who illustrated their age with the highest order of statesmanship, we will cite in refutation of this opinion, only Zenobia, the splendid Queen of Palmyra and Elizabeth Queen of England both of whom were endowed with superior statesmanlike abilities and swayed the sceptre of Empire in most difficult periods. Neither are women destitute of the sentiments of devotion that should animate a patriot. Let woman's work in our late civil war as well as myriads of instances in the great history of the past prove this assertion.

And rest assured that no harm whatever would follow from the ballot in the hands of the women of our land but rather would it be used as a sacred trust with which to uphold morality and the good order of society. Many fear that it would result in the debasement of woman and in lowering her from her present estimation in the eyes of men. That there has been occasion for this fear we will not deny. The strength and energy of character the courage and perseverance that make the leader in reforms are frequently accompanied by a lack of delicate sensitiveness or of acute perceptions of fitness and expediency and almost always of an impulsive nature which often causes unwise courses of action. Then, too in the cause of woman's enfranchisement no doubt women have felt that they must fight carefully almost defiantly on account of the great obstacles placed in her way. We will not say this has been entirely a mistaken view but think it has caused greater opposition than we should otherwise have met. For the future let us be careful while working for our cause to show womanly and [illegible] to show men that we can thoroughly understand their business and politics and matters and talk them over freely with our fathers and husbands without so much a dulling the edge of our sensibilities without the slightest detriment to the purest and truest womanhood but with a growing and ever deepening respect for their manhood and an ever widening basis for mental improvement and admiration.

Such a course will tend to remove the antagonism which now exists between the sexes. Another thing it would be well to aim at the advancement of erroneous statements with regard to the position of woman before the law and the use of exaggerated and [illegible] terms in speaking of her [illegible]. [illegible] women as a class [illegible] they are [illegible] are not guilty [illegible] their wives will [illegible] woman has [illegible] political [illegible] ing of facts. With these answers to the arguments of our opponents and these [illegible]

BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

The Board of Trustees of East Portland met last evening at 7 o'clock.

Members present—Buckman, Pape, Severson and Van Cleave.

Absent—Hoyt and Stephens.

Minutes of the last meeting read and approved.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A communication was read from Mr W S Hilpruner in relation to lighting the city with oil. Mr Hilpruner submitted this proposition. He would erect street lamps and keep them lighted and in good order for $4 each per month provided there were twenty five lamps erected. If fifty lamps were erected he would keep them lighted and in good order for $3 25 each per month. The communication was placed on file.

REPORTS.

A report was read from the Committee on Streets and Public Property to whom was referred the planking and repairing of Division street. The Committee reported that in the present condition of the street it would be impracticable to plank it.

On motion the report was placed on file and the Committee discharged from further consideration of the same.

From the same committee a report was read in relation to the extension of Twenty Third street. The Committee reported adversely to such extension and recommended that the further consideration of the subject be indefinitely postponed.

Mr Clinton, Street Commissioner submitted a report in relation to the collection of the special tax levied for street repairs. He reported that he had collected taxes as follows: First Ward, total amount in coin $3?; total amount in labor, $4. Second Ward total amount in coin, $12 total amount in labor $8. Third Ward total amount in coin $8. Total amount collected, $64. The report was placed on file.

The claim of the Bulletin for $11 50 was ordered paid.

ORDINANCES.

An ordinance relating to the annual assessment for repair of streets was read third time and passed.

RESOLUTIONS.

Mr Buckman offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved That the time for the return of the tax list for 1874 and of the list of taxpayers delinquent thereon by the City Treasurer is hereby extended until April 1st 1874.

On motion the Board adjourned until the first Monday in March.

SONG OF A HORSE

A poor old stage horse lank and thin
Not much [illegible] but bones and skin,
I jog along week out week in
Kicked and cursed and meanly fed
Jammed in the side and jerked by the head
[illegible] thing I can't at all make out
[illegible] on earth it's all about
[illegible] I made to toil and tug
For this little odd human bug,
Two-legged dam as a jug
Who sits aloft my ribs to batter—
Or why was he made for that matter
And [illegible] I need must be created
Why is it that I'm not fated
To prance and curvet finely mated
Silver harnessed sleek and fat
With groom and blankets and all that
Here [illegible] day after day
Pounding and slipping down Broadway
Dragging these curious hybrid things
With fore-legs gone and yet no wings—
Where they all go I don't know
Nor why in the world they hurry so
Nor what good use Heaven puts them to
It wasn't my fault you see at all
That my joints grew big and my muscles small
And so I missed a rich man's stall
I'm clumsy stupid crooked slow
Yet the meanest horse is a horse you know,
As well as the glossiest nags that go
O Lord how long will they use me so
And when may the equine spirit go
Where glorified horses stand in a row
Switching their bright tails to and fro
Careless of either wheels or whoa—
Where oats are always apropos
And flies don't grow—
[illegible]

TOOMBS'S SPEECH

HE PLEDGES IN THE NAME OF REBEL [illegible] REPUDIATION, AND DENOUNCES GRANT AND THE NORTH IN THE OLD WAY

[Extract from his late speech at Atlanta in favor of a Constitutional Convention.]

Why, look at that miserable thing you call a constitution It commits you to all the lies of the revolution against you It says your allegiance is first due to the federal government before it is to your own State Do you believe that? When you can wrench this from the Constitution do it. Do you believe that your liberties are at the feet of the Yankees and niggers? If you do, then stand by the dirty thing But the people do not believe it and I say, "Tear it out" That's worth a convention. And I will pledge myself today that I can hold a convention of the people of the State for less money than the printing bill of the last Legislature I will raise money upon my personal recognizance $300,000 enough to pay the expenses and yet I have not a single shilling And the printers and newspaper men—what do they say? Let us all unite We will plunder you—first we will fill the world with printer's ink—smear it all over, We give you light, but don't let the people come together This people are troublesome. What do you want with them—from the branches and the creeks in their shirt sleeves? Some of them do not want any investigation My children are gone—the last one—to the grave and I know not whether I shall rejoice or weep at their fate The cause of sorrow to my heart may be for their benefit rather than to survive among such a people Then, I say, if you intend to protect yourselves from these fools and slaves, bondholders, incorporations and robbers meet and say this debt is unconstitutional and void, and shall never be paid And there put into it, in letters of gold—let it be inscribed that the credit of the people shall never be pledged except for public defense [Applause] Put that there, to get rid of your lobby, to get rid of the other temptations to seduce and betray Was it in the Constitution of 1798? No! When they tried the principle, from the day Oglethorpe landed at Yamacraw—they call it Savannah now—up to the day we pulled down that glorious flag of independence, the State of Georgia never indorsed a bond for any human being upon the face of the earth, and she was acknowledged to be the most prosperous the happiest, freest people the world ever saw, The Legislature agreed to give State aid They said you could go to the North and get Capital Capital doesn't go from home But I just tell you you never profited by their capital They make their living off of you. They are money-changers Why the only instance of assault and battery by Christ was upon money-changers, when he whipped the thieves out of the Temple [Laughter.] Where are we now? I say up to the end of the war there was healthy development, and upon every single road that was built we put limitations. The Central road, the Columbus road, the Macon road, the Georgia road and Savannah and Macon—all were built by the money of the people. Every one of them was profitable every one paid, every one had a plenty to do, transacting the business of the country. But when you went to developing with State bonds, you went down here to Brunswick and Albany and Thomasville and they actually went out here and built a railroad to a slate quarry, and named—I can't tell what! And all the necessary transportation I could supply them with in an ox-cart [Laughter] Now you have the Brunswick and Albany upon your hands, Gov. Smith says he does not know what to do with it He asked my advice about it, and I didn't know what to do with it You have got $600 000 in it and there is $1,900 000 stolen money in it I have read the Governor's message, and he gives you very good advice in it He says repudiate these bonds They have made that a very honorable term It is no longer infamous, Why, the Jews put Christ upon the cross because he he was infamous But look back through the vista of 1,800 years, around that cross beam the glories of heaven Bad men have made the world no longer infamous I like the word I would have it put on my tombstone that I repudiated every rascally dollar these Legislatures put upon my children I accept the term I am proud of the appellation that when forged and fraudulent bonds were attempted to corrupt the people I repudiated them I glory in the name "repudiator" [Applause.] I won't pay a shilling of them unless you work it out of me by the tax collector. I have paid some government taxes but I never have paid them one I could help I have resorted to all kinds of shifts sometimes to get rid of them I took every means I could, and I have prayed to God to forgive me for some of the means I have used, for I am not sure they are exactly right I knew the end was good, but I was doubtful about the means [Laughter] * * * * You have shown an example of patience to the men of the North Men!" did I say? My God not men' thieves! demons! After seven years from our capitulation—after our flag was pulled down by the brave, you have submitted to debt, to deprivation of property, and then to the Thirteenth Amendment That is the last thing they say Then the Fourteenth and the last. Then they said submit to the Fifteenth We bowed to that Well, they said submit to reconstruction, and they would not let the Supreme Court decide upon that. They put their Erskines here to do that and would not let it go to the Supreme Court of the United States Well, we bowed again Some kicked and would not go to the convention And they had Hulbert, the right man in the right place, as somebody said the Constitution called him Then reconstruction again Some did not bow I did not bow at all I was a rebel—it was a glorious term It means patriot? After awhile they came again We have turned the negro free—and they are the best people I ever saw in their place, and a little better than the Yankees are in any place [Laughter] I always liked them They had civil rights bill number one We groaned but took it—said 'It's a glorious thing' Then civil rights bill number two Then men would have thought some sentiment of pity would have arisen in seven years But it grows more and more And then even Grant himself, the ignoble villain advised them to pass it and then after seven years you have the seventh vial of wrath poured out upon your heads. Time cannot assuage their animosity It's natural The devil hates the good When we had done everything we could do—dishonored our ancestors, crawled on our knees sang peans and said let us have peace they are like the Frenchman I never was much at French so I will give you a translation he said Let us be brethren or I will cut your throat But this is the devil twice refined over again. I am speaking the truth—every man knows it And what is that? To put your niggers in your theaters, in these hats, into your churches—stick the nigger even into your own chamber [Laughter applause, and cries of 'Never never'] Fellow citizens you have nature. There is a time when free men must say, "Thus far shalt thou come and no further" [Applause.] The time comes when freemen must seize their arms and live free or not at all. In that struggle for public liberty if these oppressions continue, I will show you, young men that an old man can die Old men, perhaps can die easily, because we have but little to sacrifice while the young men have before them life and its varied hues of pleasure with light and happiness all before It is possible that for that reason I feel more than you because my few sands are fast running out and it is but a small sacrifice that I should die in behalf of the liberties of our country Go on then Make your Constitution yourselves Allow them to appropriate not a single dollar for Husbanding your resources The Greek the greatest people in the world, laid down before the Turks They are the shame the scorn of the world—the slaves of heathen The Italians lay for 500 years in shame and infamy but the vital spark that God Almighty [illegible] put in the breasts of all lovers of justice kindled into life—they struck, and to-day are free May He reserve that for you In the [illegible] if you let any [illegible] you [illegible] corporations, base laws—thieves you will go [illegible] Opposition makes [illegible] There can be no social order without justice Order your Constitution to give justice There are discontents and I thank Almighty God for it There can be no peace without justice In this world Give them that They love peace But if there is to be no justice then as Chatham said, "Let discord reign" [A] plause]

The financial aspect of our home market presents but few new features the supply of available funds being quite sufficient for the purposes of ordinary trade. In fact, the demand for loans from that direction [illegible] present [illegible] prices and the lively competition and brisk movements of wholesale dealers and manufacturers investments in mercantile transactions must be made with care and give little reason to anticipate more than the smallest possible living margins. Aside from the call for capital for investment in local manufacturing enterprises and improvements we hear of no urgent inquiry which has not met with a fair degree of readiness and on tolerably reasonable terms

British Trade.

According to the returns of the British Board of Trade the imports into the United Kingdom for December amounted to £29 078 000 an increase of £2 700 000 as compared with the same month in 1872 The total merchandise and produce imports for the year were valued at £370 880 700 a gain of £16 000 000 over 1872. The value of the exports for December was £19 117,000 and for the year £255 073 000 or £1 000 000 less than 1872. The imports of specie and bullion for the year were £43 [illegible] 700 a gain of £4 000 000 over 1872, while the exports were £ 8 599 000, or £2 500,000 less than in 1872 The above returns show an adverse state of trade for Great Britain chiefly the result of deficient harvests

The Tea Trade.

The Tea trade for 1873 presents some interesting features It was generally a disastrous year to importers whose troubles really began in 1872 and was the result of indiscriminate purchases in the primary markets, based upon a large increase in the consumptive wants of the country consequent upon the removal of the duty of 15c ℔ in July 1872. In this the trade was measurably disappointed There was but little made by the removal of the duty most of the difference in price being absorbed by the foreign grower The result was New Yorkers were stocked up with high priced Teas of the crop of 1872, and the home market failing to respond large stocks had to be carried which finally caused several leading houses to suspend in 1873 At the beginning of the year the stock of Tea on hand at New York was 13,413 000 ℔s over 50 per cent. being Blacks The imports for the year and the stock on hand at the close were as follows

	Imports.	Stock, Dec 31st
Green ℔s	19 474 300	426 700
Japans	13 140 000	1 360 000
Blacks	14 974 200	4 862,300
Totals	47 588 500	9,649 000

The quantity taken for consumption was 51 3[illegible] 000 ℔s, including 544 600 ℔s exported and shipped inland to Canada.

A private letter from Russell & Co of Hongkong, states that the Foochow market is practically closed the stock on hand being 2 000 half chests Congou and 1 000 half chests Oolong, none of which is above fair cargo A Hongkong house has made an offer for the Oolong which it was thought would be accepted, Castle Brothers circular issued this afternoon notes an advance of 4c to 5c ℔ in Japans at Yokohama, with sales of 12,000 piculs leaving the market bare with fair prospect of prices being sustained for some time The James S Stone sailed on the 5th for New York, with 641,000 ℔s of Tea, leaving the steamer Atlanta and ship Cocoa on the berth for the same market. The Yarra sailed for Tamsui on the 20th December for New York with 418 000 ℔s Oolong Tea

Marine Disasters.

The marine disasters for January, so far as they affect the commerce of the United States embrace 28 vessels, valued at $924 000 Of these 22 were wrecked 6 were abandoned at sea 2 were foundered and 8 are still missing Some of the latter may yet report themselves, though little hope of their safety is entertained The list includes the small steamer Diana wrecked while bound from San Francisco to Puget Sound where she was to have been used as a tug boat; the British ship River Krishna bound from San Francisco to Liverpool with wheat wrecked near her destination, ship Panther, bound from Nanaimo for San Francisco with coal, wrecked soon after leaving port, with some hopes of being raised schooner Elida from Coos Bay for San Francisco with coal, wrecked with all on board, and schooner Osceola missing, from Timber Cove for San Francisco but since arrived all safe

Miscellaneous.

At latest advices from New York it was thought that in view of the small quantity of wool offering, prices would be sustained The receipts at the port of New York for January embraced only 2 200 bales foreign and 6,000 bales domestic, against 8 100 bales foreign and 8,700 bales domestic for the same month last year showing a falling off of 8 600 bales The stock in this market is light with but little demand

Among the latest novelties in freight shipments East by rail from San Francisco is the dispatch of five car loads of Malt to Philadelphia The export movement in Barley continues on an active scale The two Panama steamers from San Francisco this month have engagements for all of this kind of freight they can carry All the available empty cars for the East have also been secured for Barley The freight by steamer is 1c and by rail 1½ c

The San Francisco Bulletin says The stock of Wheat in Oregon on the 1st instant [illegible] 30,000 tons for export. Enough tonnage has already been secured to carry two-thirds of this quantity It is thought that from 5 000 to 10 000 tons will be shipped to San Francisco The estimated amount of Wheat is very low as the future will prove

We have Hongkong dates to January 9th We are indebted to Russell & Co for late commercial news California Flour was in better demand at $1 60@$1 75 for No 1 [illegible] and $1 40@1 5 for No 2 Rice was quiet at $3 60@3 70 for No 1 China and $3 20 to $3 30 for cleaned Siam grain Sugar was in fair demand at $6 40@7 30 for No 1 White and $4 10@4 2[illegible] for No 1 Brown

Home Produce Market.

The complaint of dullness in this line of trade seems to be quite prevalent to-day and with the light receipts and demand dealers are a little disposed to murmur Prices are generally weak but no important changes have occurred since our last review

WHEAT—Market is still very dull with diminished receipts We quote nominal at $1 [illegible]@1 80 ℔ cental

OATS—The market is in full supply and with no unusual demand prices are disinclined to advance We quote good lots sacked at 4[illegible] cents ℔ bushel

FLOUR—Arrivals of large lots from mill up the valley are noted and prices are without change choice extra being quotable at $[illegible] [illegible] for jobbing lots Common and country brands of extra $[illegible] superfine [illegible]

BARLEY—There is but a small quantity in the market and but a light [illegible] Good brewing quotable at $1 [illegible] in sacks feed $1 4[illegible]

HAY—Receipts light and prices weaker at $11 ℔ ton for baled timothy, $8@9 for wild

POTATOES—The call is not very [illegible] are steady at 4[illegible]@50 cents ℔ bushel

BACON—A first rate article is in fair demand at 10 cents ℔ ℔ for sides, 9@10 cts for shoulders and 1[illegible] cts for hams

LARD—The market is well supplied at our last quotations

BUTTER—We give quotations of a good article at 18@20 cts ℔ ℔ for fresh roll 16@18 cts for solid in kegs and [illegible] for solid brine [illegible] supply is ample

EGGS—There seems to be an over supply and sales are effected with difficulty Fair lots are offered at 20 cts ℔ doz with but few takers The range of quotations is 18@2[illegible] cts ℔ doz

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship California, from Sitka, and the brig Orient from San Francisco are discharging cargo, which they each have well out

MEDICAL.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,
623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL
San Francisco Established 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing he has returned from visiting the principal hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his dispensary, 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence or from virus absorbed into the system Look at the pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and the broken down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this forlorn situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who are [illegible] [illegible] their [illegible] in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make inquiry or you may fall into the hands of charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse this solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society, loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give Five Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are laboring under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give to the patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

(Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating the symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use. Enclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter [illegible] the Post office or through Wells Fargo & [illegible] a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, deceive the unwary Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became [illegible] at their trades. Some are tinsmiths [illegible] newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers [illegible] The only way to avoid imposition is to enquire—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting false titles certificates, pretended patients letters &c Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure.

Address DR. J F GIBBON 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial San Francisco Postoffice Box 1957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily OREGONIAN

[illegible] introduced in the House to-day a bill [illegible] the Secretary of War to cause a survey [illegible] between Benecia and the [illegible] navigation [illegible] of Feather river

He also presented the concurrent resolution of the California Legislature asking for the survey of the boundary between California and Oregon [illegible] the survey of public [illegible] lands of California and opposition to the [illegible] Sutillan Land Grant.

Reduction of the Army Improbable.

CHICAGO Feb 16—A Washington special to the Tribune says [illegible] members of the House Military Committee are in favor of reducing the army [illegible] have been quite [illegible] that the measure would be [illegible] there are good reasons for believing that the bill now in the committee's hands will meet with very strong and formidable opposition Army officers have a great deal of influence with Congressmen, and those who have testified before the committee have been unanimous in opposing a reduction The War Department officials have also been active in season and out of season lobbying against a reduction and using all the influence they have—and that amounts to a great deal. Reduction it is estimated will save about $4 000 000 annually if made in accordance with the bill

Sanborn is in the city Very much alarmed at the prospect before him He does not want to lose his contract He has written a letter to the Ways and Means Committee proposing that instead of a repeal of the law under which contracts have been made it be modified so that he shall receive 40 instead of 50 per cent of his collections He says if this is done he will collect the $[illegible] due the Government He is said to have in his possession the books of Credit Mobilier, for which he spent in two months time $61 000 to get.

Sweet-Scented Ben. Butler.

In this connection it is reported that Ben Butler was the Attorney of Credit Mobilier and that it was through his advice that the records were run off and concealed They were secreted about the time of the investigation last winter or just subsequent to that expose.

Referring to the bill introduced by Representative Phillips of Kansas yesterday, to enable the Central Branch of the Union Pacific Railroad to submit its claims against the United States, under existing laws to the Supreme Court a Washington correspondent of the Inter-Ocean says the Central Branch of the Union Pacific Railroad formerly known as the Atchison Branch and with the history of which ex Senator Pomeroy is closely identified has again shown its hand in the House Failing to obtain an Executive order a bill has been introduced allowing the road to get aid [illegible] its present terminus a thousand miles of Atchison on open and unsettled prairies to the main stem of the Union Pacific Railroad and thereby obtain lands and bonds and then to take the case before the Supreme Court on an appeal.
